Case Study 1: Motivation and Employee Engagement

Background ABC Manufacturing is experiencing a decline in productivity and employee morale. The company's management noticed increased absenteeism, late arrivals, and a lack of enthusiasm among workers. The HR manager conducted surveys and found that employees felt their efforts were not recognized or rewarded adequately. The management team wants to identify the root causes and improve motivation levels.

Key Issues - Lack of recognition and rewards - Limited opportunities for growth - Poor communication of organizational goals - Low intrinsic motivation

Analysis The case highlights the importance of motivation theories such as Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs and Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory. Employees' dissatisfaction stems from unmet esteem and self-actualization needs, leading to decreased motivation.

Solution The management should implement the following strategies:

1. Introduce a recognition program to acknowledge employee achievements regularly.
2. Provide opportunities for skill development and career advancement.
3. Enhance communication about organizational goals and individual contributions.
4. Implement both extrinsic rewards (bonuses, incentives) and intrinsic motivators (meaningful work, autonomy).

Conclusion By addressing both hygiene factors and motivators, ABC Manufacturing can boost employee engagement, leading to increased productivity and a positive work environment.

Case Study 2: Leadership and Change Management

Background XYZ Tech Solutions is undergoing a major technological upgrade. The leadership team decided to implement a new project management software to improve efficiency. However, employees resist change, citing fears of job redundancy and unfamiliarity with the new system. The CEO seeks to understand how to manage this change effectively.

Key Issues - Resistance to change - Fear of job loss - Lack of effective communication - Inadequate training and support

Analysis The case demonstrates the importance of Lewin's Change Management Model, which involves unfreezing, changing, and refreezing. Resistance often occurs during the unfreezing stage, where employees are comfortable with existing routines.

Solution The management should:

1. Communicate the purpose and benefits of the change transparently to reduce uncertainty.

2. Involve employees in the change process to foster ownership and reduce resistance.
3. Provide comprehensive training and continuous support during the transition.
4. Address fears directly by assuring job security and clarifying roles.

Sample Organisational Behaviour Case Study with Answer

To illustrate how case studies function in practice, let's analyze a classic scenario involving motivation and leadership.

Case Study: "The Motivation Dilemma at XYZ Tech"

Background: XYZ Tech is a rapidly growing software development firm. Despite its success, employee morale is declining, leading to increased turnover and decreased productivity. The HR manager notices that employees feel undervalued, and managers struggle to motivate their teams.

Problem Statement: The organization needs to improve employee motivation to sustain growth and maintain a positive work environment.

Stakeholders: - Employees - Managers - HR Department - Senior Leadership

Analysis: Applying the Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs and Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory, we analyze the motivational issues.

1. Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs: - Employees may be lacking in esteem and self-actualization needs due to inadequate recognition and challenging work. - Basic needs seem met, but higher-level needs are unmet, leading to dissatisfaction.
2. Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory: - Hygiene factors (salary, work environment) may be insufficient. - Motivators (recognition, achievement) are lacking, which affects motivation.
3. Leadership Style: - The management primarily employs an authoritative approach, which might suppress employee initiative.

Solution: Based on the analysis, the following strategies are recommended:

- Implement Recognition Programs: Regular acknowledgment of employee achievements to boost esteem needs.
- Provide Challenging Work: Enrich job roles to facilitate self-actualization.
- Adopt Participative Leadership: Encourage employee involvement in decision-making.
- Enhance Work Environment: Improve physical and psychological work conditions.
- Training and Development: Offer skill enhancement opportunities to foster growth.

Outcome: Post-implementation, XYZ Tech reports improved employee engagement scores, reduced turnover, and increased productivity, demonstrating the effectiveness of applying OB theories.
